F. NEWMAN, RAYMOND SIMPSON, and
WILLIAM WHITEFIELD,

Civil Action No.
17-cv-06513-CS

DECLARATION OF KAREN WILLIS

Defendants.

-----X

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 1746, Karen Willis, under penalty of perjury, swears to the truth of the following statements:

1. I, Karen Willis, doing business as Harlem West Entertainment, am the proposed intervenor in this action ("Intervenor") and make this declaration in support of Intervenor's motion to intervene in the instant action and to immediately vacate and/or modify the temporary restraining order entered in this action on December 1, 2017 (the "TRO"). I have personal knowledge of the facts and circumstances set forth herein.

2. As detailed below, in May 2017, I entered into an exclusive license to use the trademark "Village People" for concert touring purposes, which license was to be effective as of December 1, 2017, at the latest.

3. Based upon my reading of the counterclaims in this action and the TRO entered on December 1, I believe that I am an indispensable party to the instant action. Moreover, the injunctive relief granted to the defendants herein has caused, and will continue to cause, confusion in the marketplace by authorizing the defendants to tour as

“Sixuvus presents the Legendary Village People,” while the band that I have assembled tours as the “Village People.”

4. I am married to Victor Willis, the original lead singer and co-founder of the iconic 1970’s disco group the “Village People,” and a co-writer of all of the group’s biggest hits.

History of the Village People

5. The Village People’s rise to fame began in 1977 when my husband became the lead singer for the group.

6. The Village People is responsible for the hit songs “Y.M.C.A.,” “Macho Man,” “In The Navy,” “Go West,” and numerous others chart-toppers, all of which were recorded by my husband and released while my husband was still in the group and the group’s lead singer.

7. Village People’s eponymous first album, “Village People,” was recorded solely by Victor Willis prior to any other members joining the group.

8. Village People’s subsequent albums were similarly only recorded by Victor Willis, with none of the other members’ performances appearing on the recordings.

9. The original members of the Village People were Victor Willis, Dave Forrest, Mark Mussler, Lee Mouton, Felipe Rose, Alexander Briley, and Peter Whitehead.

10. Ultimately, the group became six people: Victor Willis along with Randy Jones, David Hodo, Glenn Hughes, Felipe Rose and Alexander Briley. Randy Jones replaced Dave Forrest, David Hodo replaced Mark Mussler, and Glenn Hughes replaced Lee Mouton.

11. The group was comprised of six men, each playing a character, i.e., a cop, a native American chief, a construction worker, etc.

12. Plaintiff Can't Stop Productions, Inc. ("Plaintiff") is the owner of the incontestable federally registered trademarks "Village People," the group's characters and trade dress (the "Trademarks").

History of Sixuvus Using the "Village People" Trademarks for Touring

13. Two of the original Village People members, Felipe Rose ("Rose") and Alexander Briley, along with four other men, (the individual named defendants herein) are members of a group created by Defendant Sixuvus, Ltd. ("Sixuvus") (individual defendants and Sixuvus are sometimes hereinafter collectively referred to as "Defendants"), which has in the past, pursuant to an oral license agreement with Plaintiff, staged live performances of Village People's hit songs while dressed as the Village People characters.

14. Sixuvus, despite only having two of the original seven members of the Village People and despite the fact that neither of those two men recorded any of the songs that Sixuvus performs, has held itself, and continues to hold itself, out to the public and to audiences as the Village People, the group responsible for the celebrated 1970s records.

15. However, the Sixuvus version of the Village People is plainly not the "legendary" or actual Village People responsible for the group's iconic hits or recorded music; the legendary Village People is, in fact, the original Village People group featuring Victor Willis, who recorded all of the group's hits.

16. Sixuvus is merely a group which had been authorized by Plaintiff to perform live using the federally registered Trademarks.

Plaintiff Grants Exclusive Trademark License to Intervenor

17. By agreement dated May 19, 2017, Plaintiff granted an exclusive worldwide license to Intervenor to use the Trademarks in connection with live performances and related promotional appearances (the "Exclusive License"). See Exhibit 1.

18. At the time the Exclusive License was granted, it was specifically envisioned that Plaintiff would permit Defendants to complete their prior booked tour engagements through the end of November 2017.

19. Accordingly, paragraph 1 of the Exclusive License provides:

On June 1, 2017, Lessor will terminate the Sixuvus License, effective immediately. Lessor will not authorize Sixuvus to do any further performances unless and until it obtains general releases running from Sixuvus to Lessor and Licensee. Lessor will have six (6) months (through December 1, 2017) to negotiate with Sixuvus a resolution of any claims related to the termination. Lessor will use its best efforts to obtain general releases running from Sixuvus to Lessor and Licensee. Under no circumstances will Sixuvus have the right to use the Trademarks beyond December 1, 2017.

Plaintiff Terminates Sixuvus' Oral Trademark License With a Constructive Six-Month Notice Period

20. As specifically recited in the second "Whereas" clause of the Exclusive License, Plaintiff had previously granted Sixuvus an oral license to use the Trademarks in connection with live performances of the Village People's hits.

21. I understand that Plaintiff terminated such oral trademark license to Sixuvus on or about May 30, 2017, effective June 1, 2017. See Exhibit 8 to Declaration of Raymond Simpson dated November 30, 2017.

22. I am informed that, although the effective date of termination was June 1, 2017, Plaintiff agreed not to enforce the termination immediately in order to permit Sixuvus to perform all of the shows it had already booked as of the date of termination, i.e., through November 30, 2017. I disagreed with Plaintiff's decision to give Sixuvus six months to complete their prior booked tour dates, but Plaintiff insisted on it. In so doing, Sixuvus was given beneficial use of the Trademarks for six months, effectively creating a constructive six-month notice period.

23. Defendants herein strategically did not seek immediate injunctive relief from this Court upon its receipt of notice terminating the subject oral license or even after Plaintiff filed its complaint on August 25, 2017, but instead waited out the six month reprieve given to them by Plaintiff until they had completed all of their scheduled tour dates to seek affirmative relief.

Intervenor Relies on Exclusive License to Book Performances

24. In reliance upon the Exclusive License, I assembled a group of performers to perform as the "Village People," starring the original lead singer of the group, Victor Willis.

25. In further reliance upon the Exclusive License, I hired Pyramid Entertainment Group to book live shows for the group using the trademark "Village People."

26. Although there were three promotional television appearances by my group in mid-2017, in recognition of Plaintiff's decision to allow Sixuvus to finish their previously booked shows, I purposely did not book any live concert performances for my group until after December 1, 2017.

27. Consistent with the Exclusive License and my understanding that the booked Sixuvus tour dates lasted through the latter part of November 2017, I did not seek to book any "Village People" performances with Victor Willis until the end of November.

28. The Village People, with its original lead singer, Victor Willis, have embarked on a ten-day tour in Australia (the "Australia Tour") with their first show in Perth on December 7, 2017.

29. There are numerous live performances currently booked for the Village People, featuring original lead singer Victor Willis, through July 2018, and other dates are being considered.

Sixuvus' Interference and Obstruction with Intervenor's Rights

30. Despite Intervenor's exclusive license to use the subject Trademarks and to use the "Village People" trademark for live performance purposes, and Sixuvus' knowledge of the existence of that license, see ¶37 of Defendants' Answer and Counterclaims, Sixuvus and its individual members have interfered with Intervenor's rights in a myriad of ways, some of which are described below.

31. Defendants have failed and refused to return control of the Official Village People's social media accounts to Plaintiff, despite due request therefor, and instead have used, and continue to use, the Official Village People's social media outlets to undermine Intervenor's exclusive rights to use the Trademarks for live performances and to amplify confusion among the public as to who is the "real" Village People.

32. On August 9, 2017, Felipe Rose posted on Facebook that the Australia Tour was "not likely to happen, since me and my boys [Sixuvus] are NOT part of that tour...Good luck selling that in my second home land #Australia...& on a front porch! #NPlease¹ #REALFELIPEROSE #RealVillagePeople #VILLAGESTRONG." See Exhibit 2.

33. On August 10, 2017, Sixuvus posted a video on the "Official Village People" Facebook and Twitter pages that they, the "Official Village People" are "not the ones performing at the shows currently being advertised for Australia in December 2017," imploring fans not to attend the shows. See Exhibit 3. See also Exhibit 4, "Official Village People" Facebook post from today, December 7, 2017 stating: "To our dear and loyal fans, let us reiterate that Alex, Felipe, Ray, Eric, Bill and Jim are not the group performing as Village People in Australia. We still look and sound great. Please don't judge us by what you are now seeing and reading. We are sorry if anyone has been deceived."

34. Sixuvus also directed "Official Village People"'s social media followers to contact tour promoters for the Australia Tour to tell them that Intervenor's group was "fake" and to demand refunds for tickets.

35. These attacks directly interfered with Intervenor's ability to promote the Australia Tour and damaged Intervenor's group's reputation in Australia.

36. Friends of the members of Sixuvus commented and responded to these posts, attacking Victor Willis and Intervenor's group, in some cases threatening bodily harm to Victor. See Exhibit 5.

37. In response to one of the television promotional spots in September 2017, Defendants, through Official Village People's social media administrators (including, but not limited to, family members of Raymond Simpson – Leslie Simpson and Alayna Simpson – Raymond's wife and daughter, respectively) trolled Dick Clark Productions with Facebook and Twitter messages such as "hey, this is what the Village People look like" and posted a picture of the Sixuvus group.

38. The above-described campaign of interference not only disrupts Intervenor's enjoyment of the Trademarks, but it sows public confusion as to who the "real" Village People are.

The TRO Permits Sixuvus to Refer to Themselves as "Sixuvus Presents The Legendary Village People"

39. In the instant action, the Court has granted Sixuvus a temporary restraining order and authorization to perform and bill themselves as the "Sixuvus Presents The Legendary Village People," see December 1, 2017 TRO [Dkt. #37], which is arguably false on its face as Sixuvus only includes two of the original members of the Village People and the legendary Village People is, in fact, the original Village People featuring Victor Willis.

Intervenor is an Indispensable Party With Respect to the Counterclaims and TRO

40. The counterclaims and the relief sought and granted in the temporary restraining order directly impacts my rights in the Trademarks pursuant to the Exclusive License.

41. The crux of Defendants' counterclaims, while couched as claims against Plaintiff, is that Defendants have a superior right to use the Trademarks vis-à-vis Intervenor and should be able to continue making live performances as the Village People.

42. Defendants' claim that Plaintiff permitted Intervenor to interfere with their rights to perform as the Village People really goes to the issue of whether Intervenor has superior rights to use the Trademarks in the live performance context.

43. As such, I am an indispensable party in this action and should have been impleaded by Defendants.

44. Moreover, I should have been afforded the opportunity to appear at the TRO hearing to oppose the requested relief, which directly affects my rights under the Exclusive License.

45. I have read the TRO and believe that the TRO interferes with Intervenor's exclusive right to use the subject Trademarks in connection with live musical performances of the Village People's songs pursuant to the Exclusive License.

The TRO Should be Vacated and or Modified

46. Given the foregoing, I am an indispensable party that was improperly omitted from Defendants' counterclaims, and Defendants thus have no likelihood of success on the merits. For this reason alone, the TRO should be vacated, though below are additional bases for vacating and/or modifying the TRO.

47. The TRO essentially gives Sixuvus de facto permission to use the Trademarks exclusively licensed to Intervenor and relied upon by Intervenor in booking performances after December 1, 2017.

48. By granting Sixuvus the temporary right to use the name “Sixuvu Presents The Legendary Village People,” the TRO does nothing to dispel the confusion as to which group – Intervenor’s group or Sixuvus – is the “real” Village People.

49. To the contrary, Sixuvus’ post-TRO conduct has only further served to confuse the public as to who is authorized to use the Village People Trademarks.

50. In fact, emboldened by the TRO, Sixuvus posted on the “Official Village People” Facebook page on December 2 as follows: “We are The Legendary Village People. 2018 tour dates coming soon.#villagestrong.” See Exhibit 6.

51. This December 2 post is in blatant violation of the TRO since it does not refer to Sixuvus.

52. Sixuvus has also violated the TRO on other occasions [see Exhibit 7 (December 2, 2017 Tweet “We are THE LEGENDARY VILLAGE PEOPLE. 2018 Tour dates coming soon! #LegendaryVillagePeople #therealdeal”) and Exhibit 8 (December 3, 2017 posting on Sixuvus’ booking agent’s website about “The Legendary Village People” with no preceding wording)].

53. As recently as today, December 7, Sixuvus, through its booking agent and agent Red Entertainment Agency, sent an email blast to buyers worldwide identifying themselves as “The Legendary Village People,” with the phrase “Sixuvus Presents” glaringly absent. See Exhibit 9.

54. Moreover, following the TRO, Sixuvus is actively advertising that it will be touring next year in direct competition with Intervenor and soliciting buyers for 2018. See Exhibits 5, 6, 7, and 8.

55. Sixuvus' conduct and continuing use of the subject trademarks for live performances of the Village People's songs as well as the parameters of the existing TRO have already caused and will continue to cause irreparable harm to Intervenor's group as there is no apparent distinction between the use of the term the "Legendary Village People" and Intervenor's use of the trademark for the "Village People."

56. As demonstrated in Exhibits 3, 4, and 9, the competing use of the "Village People" trademarks by Defendants have caused obvious and actual confusion in the marketplace as to who is authorized to perform as the "Village People."

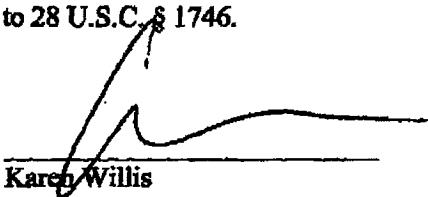

57. Moreover, Sixuvus' claim that it should be permitted to advertise itself as the "Legendary Village People" is misleading given that only two of the original members of the Village People are members of Sixuvus.

58. Defendants have no concerts booked for the next thirty (30) days as reflected on their Facebook page. Accordingly, a modification or the vacatur of the TRO should cause them no hardship in the interim period.

59. Given the foregoing, it is respectfully requested that (i) Intervenor should be permitted to intervene in this action as of right, or in the alternative, permissively; (ii) the TRO should either be vacated or be modified immediately to permit Defendants to state that Defendant Sixuvus "can perform as 'Sixuvus Presents Felipe Rose and Alexander Briley, former members of the legendary Village People, and Company,'" with "Sixuvus" at least double the font size of "Village People"; and (iii) Defendants, and their agents, including, but not limited to Red Entertainment Agency and Carlos Keyes, be temporarily restrained from using social media or other forms of communications to attack Intervenor's group known as "Village People" or Victor Willis, or to otherwise interfere with or attempt to interfere with concert performances or dates that such group has been engaged to perform at.

Sworn to Under Penalty of Perjury Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746.

To our dear and loyal fans, let us reiterate that Alex, Felipe, Ray, Eric, Bill and Jim are not the group performing as Village People in Australia. We still look and sound great. Please don't judge us by what you are now seeing and reading. We are sorry if anyone has been deceived. #villagepeople, #villagestrong
